

G. O. P. Contests Heard in Chicago 137 Cases Listed

Right of Nearly One-Seventh of All Delegates to Republican Convention to Occupy Seats Is at Stake.

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, May 31.—The right of nearly one-seventh of all the delegates to the republican national convention to occupy their seats when the big quadrennial show opens here one week from tomorrow, was at stake today when the national committee opened its hearing in 137 contest cases.

Practically all the national committeemen were on hand when the hearing opened. Notable among the proxy holders were John T. King, Connecticut, former campaign manager for Major Leonard Wood, who holds the proxy of Senator Penrose, Pennsylvania, and Joe Keating, Indianapolis, representing James A. Hemmenway, Indiana.

Southern Contests Heard

Contests from 3 southern states—Alabama, Arkansas and Florida—probably will be heard today, committeemen said. Announcement by Chairman Will H. Hays yesterday that the contest session would be open, marks a new departure in republican procedure and was hailed in the camps of the various candidates as the passing of "clean voter" methods. Besides the contestants themselves, attorneys and friends of the various candidates and newspaper men representing the public have been invited to attend.

Routine Work Is Long

The executive session of the committee which opened today's business, the compilation of the calendar was expected to take all the morning and part of the afternoon. The first contest involving one delegate from the fourth Alabama district, is not expected to be reached before the middle of the afternoon. Two unsuccessful delegates from the Wood and Lowden forces interested to the extent that their campaign committees had been before the national committee that each had spent $1,000 in the state.

Arkansas Case Next

In the alphabetical order in which they will be heard the other cases are:

Arkansas: Seven of the states 13 seats are in dispute between the Wood and Lowden forces. The Wood group is expected to win. The Wood group is expected to win. The Wood group is expected to win.

Georgia Contest Bitter

Georgia: Fifteen of the states 13 seats are in dispute between the Wood and Lowden forces. The Wood group is expected to win. The Wood group is expected to win. The Wood group is expected to win.

Minnesota Seats Contested

Minnesota: Two of the states 24 seats are in dispute between the Wood and Lowden forces. The Wood group is expected to win. The Wood group is expected to win. The Wood group is expected to win.

South Carolina

South Carolina: Two seats in the sixth and tenth districts at stake with Wood and Lowden forces. The Wood group is expected to win. The Wood group is expected to win. The Wood group is expected to win.

Bald Headed Man Will Be President, Must Be Blonde

Budapest, May 31.—Is there in the world a man who is blonde, slightly bald, wears glasses, is "surrounded by fine children," and an aspirant to the presidency? If there is he is the "man of destiny" according to Mme. Sybilline Rejzling, the Hungarian fortune teller. She was asked recently to apply her gifts to determining who the next American president would be. In addition to the foregoing peculiarities, Mme. Sybilline declared he was "the most popular man in America" and that his election is demanded by the masses of the people. She added that an attempt was made to assassinate him in the year 1917. The next president will be a "good man, successful and popular," she declared. "America will yield to the popular sentiment and turn to him," she predicted, "the prophetic seeress."

PRESIDENT WILSON'S LETTER ON THE VIRGINIA PLATFORM CITED.

WHO'S THE MAN?

Speculation As to President's Choice Involves Candidates Acceptance of League.

(By DAVID LAWRENCE.
(Copyright 1920 by Janesville Gazette.)

Washington, May 29.—President Wilson's approval of the Virginia platform which is no secret was largely the work of Senator Carter Glass, the first expression from the White House of what the President would like to have adopted by the democratic national convention at San Francisco. He does not ask for the unqualified endorsement of the platform and acceptance of the "prompt ratification without reservations" which would impair its essential integrity.

City Honors Heroes of Four Wars

In token that the nation does not forget the men who died for the flag, simple ceremonies in observation of Memorial Day were conducted by the several veterans' organizations at both cemeteries here this morning. Oral tributes to the fallen heroes, which were preceded by a parade of former soldiers.

Promptly at nine o'clock, exercises were held at the former West Milwaukee street and under the command of Capt. Harold Peterson, U. S. Army, who was in command of the parade. The parade was held at the hall of the G. A. R. on North Main street.

OUR FLAG-A LIVING TRIBUTE. IN MEMORY OF OUR SOLDIERS IN FRANCE.

by Mrs. Major Arnold
OF THE SALVATION ARMY

There's a consecrated garden in a lonely spot in France—

The Gethsemane of mothers, it is said—
All adorned with wreaths of glory is this garden,
—once so glory,
Memory bring the sacred story of our dead.

There are rows of wooden crosses, quite as far as eye can see,

And the names of valiant warriors they bear;
There's a flag that waves above them, there are mother-hearts that love them,
For the selfsame sorrows move them over there.

Yes, the flag that waves above them is our own dear country's flag,

In the centre of that silent hill of God;
High upon the flagstaff flying, "Liberty forever!"
—crying,
Guarding well our soldiers lying 'neath the sod.

Silent, yet a living tribute to their noble sacrifice—
Flag that stands for freedom, peace and unity,
For this flag they died while fighting 'gainst the wrongs that needed righting;

Nations in one bond uniting was their plea.
Loving hands may place their garlands on our heroes' lonely graves,
But a short-day and their beauty none can see;
While our flag keeps waving, waving, speaking of our comrades braving
Battles fierce and long while saving you and me.

Rows and rows of wooden crosses, with their arms outstretched in prayer—
Their petition to the mother-flag above—
Peace forever they are pleading, for the whole world interceding;

Naught can staunch the world's wounds, bleeding, but God's love.
Tread the graveled walks there, lightly, gently touch the verdant sod,
Whisper softly and with tender, reverent tone; 'Tis God's acre. He is keeping watch o'er all our boys there sleeping,
And He comforts loved ones weeping for their own.

Special Legislative Session Summarized

(By Special Correspondent.)
Madison, May 31.—The 1920 special session of the legislature was called upon to pass on finances relating to all educational activities of the state. The summary of its work is as follows:

University.—Through Bill No. 1A the university has received additional appropriations for the year beginning July 1, 1920. For operation, $598,529; maintenance, and property repairs, $48,610; educational apparatus, $25,000; university extension operation, $18,880.

Normal Schools.—Bill No. 3A has provided an additional amount on July 1, 1920, of $18,000 for the operation of the normal schools.

Stout Institute.—Through Bill No. 6S an additional operating appropriation has been received for the coming year of $25,000 and an equipment appropriation of $3000.

Mining School.—The Wisconsin Mining School located at Platteville, through Bill No. 7S has received an additional appropriation for operation of $5,626 and an equipment appropriation of $500.

Supervising Teachers.—Bill No. 4A has raised the minimum salary for county supervising teachers from eighty to one hundred dollars and has left the maximum to be fixed by the county boards.

Vocational Schools.—Bill No. 9S relates to tax levies for vocational schools gives those towns, villages or cities which have vocational schools authority to levy a tax not exceeding one-half mill for the maintenance of such schools.

Miscellaneous School Taxes.—Through Bill No. 14A authority is given cities of the third and fourth class to levy annually a special tax not exceeding eight mills for school purposes. Since the authority is granted to cities of the first class, in school districts the authority is given to raise a tax for maintenance of schools, purchase of school buildings, teachers' wages, etc., not to exceed two and one-half per cent as against the old rate of two and one-half per cent.

Industrial Home for Women.—Through Bill No. 16S an appropriation of $10,000 is made for the completion of the Industrial Home for Women. This appropriation is necessary in order that the institution may be opened.

Library School.—Through Bill No. 9A an appropriation for the coming year of $10,000 has been granted. State Fair.—Through Bill No. 10A an appropriation has been made of $25,000 for the installation of comfort stations in the state fair grounds at West Allis.

Inter-Departmental Committee on Community Councils.—Through Bill No. 11A an appropriation of not to exceed $1500 has been made for carrying on the work of the state inter-departmental committee on community councils.

County Training Schools.—Bill No. 14 County increased the state aid for county training schools from three thousand to four thousand dollars in the case of a school having two teachers and from four to five thousand dollars for schools employing three or more such teachers.

State of Wisconsin General Hospital.—Through Bill No. 18S the legislature has appropriated $750,000 for a hospital building, $150,000 for a nurses' home, and $450,000 for the equipment of these two buildings. Since at least part of the funds are to come from the unexpended balance in the Service Hospital fund the bill provides that a suitable table shall be erected, stating the source from which the funds are derived.

Valuating Bills.—The 1920 session has enacted a number of valuating bills among which are Bill No. 11S, which relates to the payment of taxes on improvements and provides that such payment may be certified. Bill No. 13S legalizes and validates county bond issues for the purpose of the original improvement of any portions of the system of prospective state highways or of the state trunk highway system. Bill No. 14S relates to the city of Milwaukee and validates certain bond issues which did not conform with a technicality of the law.

UTTER'S CORNERS

[By Gazette Correspondent.]
Utters Corners, May 31.—To fall 12 feet from a window in the upstairs department of a granary without serious injury was the experience of little Thelma. Ake, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hake. Mrs. Hake was assisting her in getting ready for bed when the child was with them. They did not suppose she was strong enough to open the door, which in some way she managed to do. She was picked up in a dazed condition. No serious injuries were found.

Anton Stevey, Moody Bible school teacher, occupied the pulpit here Sunday.
Miss Dorothy Hull has returned from her visit at Gatesville, Ill.

Roy Farnsworth lost a 3-year-old colt recently. This makes two colts he has lost this spring.
G. H. Roe and family entertained relatives from Madison function and Whitewater Friday.

Platteville.—A class of three graduated from the Wisconsin Mining School. The following completed their course: Walter Bauer, Milwaukee; Victor Kroger; and Cecil Robins, Platteville.

PLEASURE SEEKERS TURN TO RESORTS

Today Marks Formal Opening of Summer Season at Surrounding Lakes.

With the general holiday today, Janesville turned toward the country and the lakes for recreation. Many left Saturday to enjoy the week-end and today. Regardless of this number leaving, there were hundreds on the streets and in the nation's dead.

Today is the official opening of the summer resort season. For the past week, cottage, lake and camp have been undergoing renovation. A number of week-end house parties terminate tonight on Rock river, Waubesa, Kegonsa, Delavan, Lauderdale and Koshkonong lakes, haven for many from Janesville.

The baseball game at the fair grounds this afternoon is expected to draw a large attendance.
Lauderdale and Delavan will attract many from here this afternoon and tonight. The drive to either lake can be made in an hour.

Clear lake, near Milton, should not be lost in the enumeration of resorts in the country. It has been termed.

While many will be content with a day up or at one of the lakes, spent with a row and a lounge throughout, others plan adventures with the week-end. Perhaps the largest number of parties of Janesville fishermen, although they are many with their tackle and bait on the river. Catches have been reported good thus far.

Juneau Leads Central State

SUNDAY'S RESULTS. Juneau 7, Fort Atkinson 5. Watertown 5, Jefferson 4. Whitewater 17, Waupun 0.

TEAM STANDINGS.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Juneau	4	1	1.000
Watertown	2	2	.500
Whitewater	2	2	.500
Fort Atkinson	1	1	.500
Waupun	1	1	.500
Jefferson	0	4	.000

Juneau, in defeating Fort Atkinson Sunday, takes the lead in the Central league without a defeat, to mark its record this season. Juneau took an early lead and, although both teams scored ten hits apiece, Juneau managed to hold the lead to the end. Fort Atkinson played a great game and with more timely hits would have made the final count look different.

Watertown went into second place by scoring a victory over Jefferson in a regular nine-inning match. Made up of six spans, each 54 feet long, the length from north to south abutment is 355 feet. It is 55 feet in width, a narrower than the Milwaukee street bridge.

Rails are ready for the streetcar right-of-way which will be in the center of the avenue. The track of the north side of the bridge is now being moved from the east to the center of the street in accordance with an order adopted by the council two weeks ago.

Long Under Way—Although the bridge has been under construction for some time, the contract was let in April, 1919, city officials feel satisfied with results although at times during the year they were warm of delays which seemed to them to have been avoidable. They agree though that the contractors were obliged to contend with the weather, and that the work was throughout first, it was labor shortage and then coal shortage so that the coming of winter found the bridge far from finished and it had to be delayed until spring of this year.

Alva Maxfield, secretary of the local association, stated that the association has had no official correspondence on the June price. The next meeting of the association will be held June 14.

POSITION STATED BY OPPOSITION

Anti-Federationists of the Presbyterian Church Add Further Information on Decision.

In connection with the dissolution of the Federated church of Janesville, the news of which was given in the Gazette Thursday, 190 other supporters in receipt of a statement signed "On Behalf of the Presbyterian Anti-Federationists." The article was written by Rev. (Mr.) Todd and presented for publication by M. D. Calkins and is as follows:

"Editor Gazette: The Thursday's Gazette an article appeared on the decision of the Presbyterian Assembly adverse to the local Federated church. The undersigned desires the privilege of comment thereon—a privilege accorded the federated pastor.

In said article it is stated that Madison Presbytery did not sustain the complainants on any point. They were sustained on one point only, namely, the attempted disfranchisement of qualified Presbyterian voters. Again, in said article, it is intimated that Madison Presbytery was the only parties appealing this case to the General Assembly. The fact is that they represented 47 other churches and over 100 other presbyteries of Presbyterian work. They were asked to represent this Presbyterian constituency because they were already in the east, and are attending the Presbyterian Assembly.

Dr. Joseph W. Cochran of Detroit was secured as counsel because of his past acquaintance with Wisconsin affairs, having been pastor of our Madison church and a visitor at Janesville. Madison Presbytery was duly represented in this case by Rev. A. D. McKay of Clinton, and Lawyer H. E. Andrews of Portage.

The appeal to the Presbyterian Assembly was based on two grounds:

(1) That the Wisconsin Synod violated Presbyterian law by forcing the case of the Wisconsin Synod without any formal hearing of it.

(2) That the Janesville Session violated Presbyterian law by forcing the case of the Wisconsin Synod without any formal hearing of it.

Thus it was purely a question of Presbyterian law that was presented to our National Assembly, and the question of the fairer is its decision. Our National Assembly, composed of about 100 delegates, half laymen, half ministers, and according to Philadelphia papers this body decided the Janesville case by a 10-9 vote. It is a decision of the U. S. supreme court, and should carry great weight with the Presbyterian body.

The opinion of any local attorney could properly command. In conclusion we wish to record our hearty approval of the well planned project of inter-church co-operation.

METHODIST CIRCUS IS GREAT SUCCESS

Two hundred and fifty people attending the county fair Friday evening at Methodist Episcopal church, which was a great success. There was a museum hall, a fortune telling and a pop booth music hall, doll baby stands and a "crazy" show. Refreshments were served by a pop, peanuts and popcorn were sold at a flourishing business.

During the evening the following program was given: Reading, Miss Elva Moore; piano solos, Misses Bird Stevens and Estelita Nott; Mrs. Charles Collett and William Bennett; violin solo, Miss Cecil Brigham; vocal solo, Mrs. Fred Anderson, Detroit.

A cafeteria supper in charge of the supper committee, which brought in $100, which will be added to the fund that has been raised this month by the Y. W. F. M. S. for the hostess in the church was the fourth event which the young women fostered, the others being a May breakfast, a lecture, and an olden time concert.

CARTER GLASS IS NOW IN LIMELIGHT

(Continued from page 1.) sufficiently pro-league and pro-treaty to earn the cordial approval of the incumbent of the White House. Similarly Messrs. Bryan and Underwood are well liked by the president and unquestionably the senate was pleasing to Mr. Wilson. By conservatives in the democratic party, he is looked upon as a dark horse. He retains much of the strength which he had in 1912.

Must Agree on Treaty. But presidential favor seems to be unlikely to descend on any but those who absolutely pledge their all to the Wilson treaty stand. The hidden but effective political hand of the White House reaching that corner of federal old-timers and staunch Wilson men to the delegates of the convention itself veto those who haven't the nerve to repudiate the Wilson doctrine on the league and peace treaty as enunciated in the platform of Virginia democrats. Thus far it was necessary to the Wilson nomination for the democratic nomination from the Wilson standpoint:

1. John W. Davis of West Virginia, an ambassador to the Wilson cause. His name was recently presented to the public by the New York Times, an unprecedented act for that newspaper to take. Though one administration democrat humorously remarked that the praise given Ambassador Davis was that given to the Wilson administration, former Attorney General James M. Beck, was enough to make democrats suspicious. There was a friendly feeling for the American ambassador in White House circles. It would not be surprising indeed to the President Wilson favor Mr. Davis if he favors anybody. The American ambassador is a remarkable orator and a great lawyer. Supreme court justices, it is whispered, say he is the best lawyer who has argued before the highest court in the land in this generation.

2. Governor Cox of Ohio is in good favor at the White House. He has expressed himself on the treaty question in terms favorable to the Wilson viewpoint. The general feeling is that while Mr. Cox would make an excellent man to head the court, he is not a man to lead him in the end for the vice-presidency.

3. Senator Carter Glass is the kind of democrat who comes with the Wilsonian doctrine of "patriotic men who know how to serve their country and mankind." The fact that he comes from Virginia is of constant advice on economic and international questions. He isn't spectacular or dramatic, however, and is of the quiet type that doesn't magnify. Politically speaking, Charles R. Crane, minister to China.

Secretary. David Franklin Houston is another White House favorite. He thinks along the same lines that President Wilson does. He is credited with being the friend of constant advice on economic and international questions. He isn't spectacular or dramatic, however, and is of the quiet type that doesn't magnify. Politically speaking, Charles R. Crane, minister to China.

Where Cox stands in 1912. Secretary. David Franklin Houston is another White House favorite. He thinks along the same lines that President Wilson does. He is credited with being the friend of constant advice on economic and international questions. He isn't spectacular or dramatic, however, and is of the quiet type that doesn't magnify. Politically speaking, Charles R. Crane, minister to China.

Must Be a Campaigner

To these names should be added Attorney General Palmer and former Secretary McAdoo as men to whose respective candidacies the President has already said he would have no objection. But it is hardly likely that Mr. Wilson will ever express a preference between these two men for reasons best known to himself. His influence will go toward the man who can in his judgment make the best campaign for the league of nations.

Memorial Day

Many were the men who fought and struggled; great numbers of them have passed beyond. And, though we no longer hear the blare of trumpet or the thundering cannon, memory of what they did still does and always will live on.

Proudly they parade, the young and old, made brothers by a common sacrifice. If we can't do more let us lift our hats as they pass.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

LINDSEY GETS ACQUAINTED WITH A TALL AND HANDSOME STRANGER.

"Well, here it is the end of June, and most everybody is feeling to the country but ourselves. Father has had to change our sailing date from July 16 to August 1. Business reasons, of course, but somehow or other I am not in the least put out. It is not cool here in town by a long shot, but I am to spend a few days with Jean and Dorry down at 'Hope Hamlet,' which is the name of their tiny little bungalow on the Sound, so that helps some. Aunt Cecilia is to chaperone us; so everything seems just right.

Fancy anyone taking Aunt Cecilia seriously, as a chaperone. Why, she's just a welcome addition to the happy party, which is not what can be truthfully said of most chaperones, as anyone will agree—that is anyone under 25!

We have all suffered from this type of social necessity at some period in our young lives, and no doubt we all could tell the same tales about them. Chaperones as a class are invariably kill-joys, natural born enemies of youth and freedom. They are responsible for many old maids I know, and seem to live to devise ways and means for keeping the young idea in the ugly and narrow path that our mid-Victorian anceslors worked out for themselves, less power to em!

Went to an exhibition of Marsden Hartley's at The Daniel's Gallery today and enjoyed myself thoroughly. Saw an old acquaintance of mine there, Morgan Travers, who begged me to come down and pose for him one afternoon. Of course I did not promise to do so, for it requires a considerable amount of deliberation—but I may. He is a dear boy and clever. After all there is no harm in posing, and it does help a fellow artist out.

Had a romantic collision with a very handsome and unknown man in the afternoon. Fate threw us into each other's arms, literally speaking! I got on a bus at Fifty-third street, and as it started up with me clinging valiantly to the railing, and my foot on the fourth step from the ground, it gave a sudden lurch and I went backwards, right into the steady arms of a tall, tanned stranger. He acted nobly under the circumstances, for I knew that he was just dying to laugh, but for my sake kept his face straight. It was one of those occasions when there's just no use to be haughty! I was placed in an embarrassing position, so the only thing to do was to grin. I did same. So did said handsome stranger.

I staggered up the steps again, and he was forced to share my seat, for all other places were filled. Then we looked at each other and broke into fits of laughter. We rode uptown together and I discovered that he was an Australian, but a short time in this country, and very lonely. This found me, of course, and we chatted merrily and quite like old friends until the bus reached the end of the trip. Then we decided to take it all the way to Washington Square again. Summer breezes do queer things to one, I must say. His name is Bradford, Leslie Bradford, and he is over here studying ways and means for something or other. Anyway, what does it matter, he is charming and good to look at. I require no more in a man—in warm weather. Mr. Bradford is a gentleman, and so lonely that I invited him to come and see us.

Hope it is all right with the family.

Food—the Problem of the Hour

THE need for food has the world in its grip. To produce more food we must depend upon gasoline power on the farm to multiply the efficiency of the man-power available.

The following interesting comparison of man-power vs. machine-power, required per acre is illuminating:

Crop (1 acre)	Man-Hours By Hand	Man-Hours By Machine
Barley	64	4.25
Corn	39	7.70
Cotton	168	79
Hay	21	8.45
Oats	66	4.25
Potatoes	109	38
Rice	62	17
Rye	63	4.25
Wheat	61	4.25

The United States has changed from an agricultural into a semi-industrial nation. Never again will it see the day when 97 percent of its population dwells on farms. Yet the fact remains that the United States must feed itself, and the only way this can be done is through intensive soil cultivation, made possible by automotive machinery.

On the farms of the Middle West the gasoline tractor, truck, and automobile are multiplying the productivity of man-power, and are doing their part in furnishing an adequate supply of food-stuffs.

Throughout this great section the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has developed a system of distribution which insures the farmer an adequate supply of gasoline and lubricating oils. This system is based upon huge storage depots, fed from three large modern refineries.

Anticipation of possible difficulties is but one of the many burdens the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) assumes in order that consumers of the Middle West may have their wants supplied.

Memorial Day 1920

Song of the Drums

The morning is cheery, my boys, arouse! The dawn shines bright on the chestnut boughs. And the sleepy mist on the river lies. Though the east is flushed with crimson dyes. Awake! Awake! Awake!

O'er field and wood and brake, With glories newly born, Comes on the blushing morn. Awake! Awake!

You have dreamed of your homes and friends all night. You have basked in your sweetheart's smiles so bright. Come part with them all for a while again—Be lovers in dreams; when awake be men. Turn out! Turn out! Turn out!

The east is all aglow, Turn out! Turn out!

From every valley and hill there come The clamoring voices of life and drum; And out in the fresh, cool morning air The soldiers are awaking everywhere. Fall in! Fall in! Fall in!

Every man in his place, Fall in! Fall in! Fall in!

Each with a cheerful face, Fall in! Fall in!

June Ushers In Hosts of BEAUTIFUL SUMMER CLOTHES

These are busy days in the Store, because we set out some time ago to make the month of June famous for something else besides "rare days." And now our plans are bearing fruit. Each day sees more enchanting wearables added to our timely displays. Summertime is vacation time; whether you spend it at home or away and here are such clothes as you will surely need and want if you are going to get enjoyment out of every minute of its balmy days. Presented here in noteworthy assortments are Ready-to-Wear modes for each and every warm weather occasion including apparel spirited in styling for hours of sport. Even though your immediate wants may be few you will find it profitable to stroll through these tempting exhibits.

Just When You Need Them The June Sale Brings Hosts of Washable Frocks

No silk or woolen modes ever offered more gayly enchanting styles or more fascinating variety than you will find in this timely showing of Cotton Frocks. They couple the breeziness of youth with the colorings of Summer to affect the results so much desired. Yet with all their superior attractiveness they are very moderately priced.

One May Choose An Entire Summer Wardrobe Economically With The Help of The June Sales

In the whole calendar of months there are few events offering such gratifying thrift opportunities or pleasing assortments of up-to-the-minute and beautiful Ready-to-Wear as the June Sales.

Quality and attractiveness have not been overlooked in the quest of minimum prices. Rather they are paramount. Those who recognize the earnestness of our efforts in their behalf will hasten to avail themselves of the rare savings proffered.

All The Wash Skirts In The June Sales Are Attractively Priced

We are especially proud of this particular sale because it abounds in such bewitching, yet practical styles. These skirts are all of the type the fastidious woman likes to wear at picnics, outings or while engaged in other summer diversions. Last, but not least, they may be laundered so easily. All are remarkable values.

Every Wash Blouse In The June Sale Is A Tempting Value

Only on rare occasions and after great planning and searching are we able to offer such notable values as these. Presented at prices a great deal lower than those generally in effect among Blouses of this character are modes of Swiss, organdy and voile—all irresistibly styled.

Silk Frocks Are Going To Be Worn a Great Deal This Summer

That is the reason why you won't want to miss choosing one from this bany of youthfully appealing modes. Another reason is their very favorable June Sale prices. Among the fabrics you may choose from are satins, taffetas and foulards. Navy blue predominates, but offered also are many other wanted colorings.

During Vacations Bathing Apparel Always Plays An Important Role

And well it should be for water sports number among the most healthful of outdoor exercises. Offered at moderate prices in this timely display are chic Bathing Suits and interesting assortments of accessories for the beach.

There's A Fine Variety Of Styles To Choose From In This Clearaway Of Suits

Suits of tricotine, pique twill, velvet checks all have been reduced so radically in marking that immediate disposal is assured. Be one of the first to visit this display for you run less chance of finding your size in the particular model you like if you delay.

"Ugliness No Bar to Woman's Success," Says One Who Knows

Rene Riano as she appears in "Homey Girl" and as she is in real life.

"It is the duty of the homely woman to make herself attractive, to be groomed so becomingly, and to be so perfectly groomed that even in a room of pretty and attractive women she will be distinctive, and that is not as difficult as it may sound. A woman may develop an individual style; and it is oftentimes easier for an ugly woman to do that than it is for a pretty one. Because she is pretty a woman is apt to wear anything that strikes her fancy, though it may not suit her at all. A homely woman cannot afford to do this and should therefore study herself and choose her clothes and hats carefully.

"After I had recovered from my own disappointment I saw things in this light. Of course a pretty woman makes a better impression at first, but I use a writer's trick of forestalling a reader's objections by beating the reader to it, and usually make some remark about my own looks in a joking manner, which puts me on a friendly footing with the person immediately.

"So there is hope for the homely girl as well as for her pretty sister, and Miss Riano's looks have won her as much fame as has her dancing.

TANKS GO TO CAMP DOUGLAS IN JULY

Last Two Weeks of Month Allotted Company "I"—Be-lot Goes in August.

Janesville's new National Guard unit, Co. "I," Tank Corps, will go to Camp Douglas on July 19, and remain until July 31, according to a training camp schedule received today from the office of the adjutant general in Madison.

The organizations of the Wisconsin national guard will go into camp this year as provisional regiments. This action is due primarily to the slowness of the war department in supplying equipment and clothing. Companies are being equipped as rapidly as possible by the state officials in the order in which they were mustered into the service. There is no first equivalent to be assigned to one provisional regiment to go to camp first. The encampment will open July 19 instead of July 1, as previously announced. As yet no field officers for the various commands have been announced.

Those to go into camp from July 19 to 31 are provisional regiments with companies from Tomah, Oconomowoc, Ripon, Beaver Dam, Milwaukee (three), Madison, Monroe, Eau Claire, Monmouth, Oshkosh, Machine gun company, Ashland; Supply company, Oshkosh; Cavalry, squadron and machine gun troop from Milwaukee; Supply trans. River Falls, Abbotsford, New London; tank company, Janesville; sanitary detachment, Oconomowoc; From Aug. 2 to 14: Infantry, Appleton, Marshfield, Neilsville, Chippewa Falls, Phillips, Marinette, Oconto, Beloit, Beaver Dam, Neenah, Thibodeau; Cavalry, Kenosha, Lake Geneva, Watertown, Fort Atkinson, Two Rivers; ammunition trains, Jefferson, Clinton. It has been decided to send the artillery to Camp Douglas this year instead of Camp Taylor.

Chicago.—Founded as the result of a wager less than a year ago, with a capital of 70 pounds, all the money its eight backers could raise, the Daily Mail, Jerusalem's new Hebrew daily, now has a weekly English edition, is planning a similar Arabic edition and has a steady growing circulation which has already passed the 3,000 mark.

Miss Rivka Aaronsohn, member of the famous family whose name is linked with Jewish settlements since the first pioneer colonists established themselves in Palestine 38 years ago, and one of the founder of this unique journalistic enterprise is now visiting in New York and Chicago to secure modern equipment and print paper for the publication.

No successful newspaper has probably ever had such a strange line-up of editors and tutors as the "Dor Hayom," or Daily Mail.

Make the city a place of welcome to visitors from new residents and not for their exploitation.
Pave streets as fast as possible until all are done.

This day in 1889 was marked by a flood which had never had its counterpart in America. A city set in the Pennsylvania hills was suddenly swept away by the bursting of a dam holding a reservoir high up in the mountains. When the rush of waters had passed Johnstown was gone and several hundred people were dead.

AS TO PUBLIC COMFORT.
There are a good many visitors in Janesville today. They are here on all holidays. They find the stores closed and it is an effort to locate a public comfort station. The city has none and it will be some time before one is built. There are some tentative plans for such a station and the architecture and fittings are to be perfect. All it will lack will be a few old Masters on the walls and an orchestra, according to the ideas now advanced. It is to be doubted whether a public comfort station of that kind was contemplated by the legislature when it passed the act making it mandatory for the city to provide these necessities. Utility was the moving idea. Janesville will need more than one of these stations and they should be neat, not gaudy, and for the purpose designed, without useless frills. Also with notions less magnificent as to architecture they need not cost so much as to be a burden.

"HOCHO."
Some of our eastern contemporaries are perturbed over the word "Hocho," a term recently applied to illicit and bootlegger whiskey, generally of high potency, conducive to intoxication on small provocation and if adhered to with faithfulness for a short time is a wireless invitation for the undertaker to call.
But any "Sourdough," a man who has wintered in Alaska, knows what "Hocho" means. He brought the name to the states from the snow trails. He cannot tell of what it is made for after two drinks no one cares. It is "surprisingly concocted by the Alaskan Indians and used on occasions to induce a spirit of pure meanness unbelievable. The proverbial drink that would make a rabbit fight a wildcat, is as mild as a mourning dove compared to "Hochochino," the Indian name of this "tabascoized brewer," foreshortened to "Hocho."

It is an apt and excellent name to the merchandise of the bootlegger vendor of the illegal beverages now on sale underground. The bootlegger is the lowest type of a criminal. It makes no difference whether he deals in dollars singly or by the thousand. Taking jewelry from the dead is a high and noble calling beside his. Hence let us keep and cherish this name of "Hocho" as typical of the thing behind it. It is a misnomer to call such liquor moonshine, for moonshine, though made without legal sanction has been distilled in Nature's fastnesses; and for more than a century corn liquor has been an article of commerce and was pure and undiluted even in its wickedness as an alcoholic beverage.

In the onslaught being made to nullify the law against alcoholic drinks it is quite proper that we should have a bibliography pertinent and appropriate. We nominate "Hocho" as head of the list in the Hall of Infamy.

ON THE GENTLE ART OF BOXING.
New York, not only the city, but the whole state, is to have boxing matches up to 15 rounds by a law patterned somewhat on the plan of the Wisconsin statute providing for aseptic prize fights. Bitterly attacked on one side by the enemies of the prize ring as an immoral and brutal exhibition, patronized only by the lower element of society, and assailed by lovers of boxing as a sport because boxing has fallen into the evil ways and management of gamblers who mulcted the public of money on framed and sold exhibitions, the law finally passed the legislature and was signed by the governor.

Probably so long as man is man there will be interest in boxing. Of the sport there are two kinds—the exhibition of the gentle art of self-defense by keeping off an opponent and occasionally giving him a warped countenance, and the light-glove fighters who stop only at the tossing of the sponge to denote that further activity might end in a tragedy. In the beginning it was with bare knuckles and under the London prize ring rules such a contest was a fight—nothing else—a smashing, cave-man fight. Such was the battle of Esmahan and Sayers, the fights of Joe Corbun and others, until the days of John L. Sullivan and his argument of 70 odd rounds with Jake Kilrain, put an end to bare fists in public exhibitions.

But the prize ring has fallen into evil ways. It is a wise man these troublous times who can say that a contest is honest. It is a pity that it is true that it is true. That is why for one reason that prize fighters, backed by the aristocracy of gamblers, have had a hard time to find a place to light and carry off a half million or so of the public's money. New York hopes that a sound boxing commission will give the game a chance to rise to respectability. It is to be doubted. A boxing exhibition will draw a larger crowd any time than a lecture and more tickets can be sold than volumes of essays on ethical and spiritual topics. That was true sixty years ago and it is true now. It is better, however, than the days of the gladiator and to be preferred to the bull fight. So if there is a way to make it clean that way should be taken.

BUILDING OUTLOOK ENCOURAGING.
Reports of building for May show an increase of $100,000,000 over April and a total of close to a billion dollars. In a circular sent out by a Chicago banking firm which makes a special effort to secure information on building occur these encouraging paragraphs:

"It is encouraging to note that the various efforts that are being made throughout the country to increase the supply of homes are beginning to bear fruit and the percentage of new residential structures to other operations is increasing. In this work some of the producers of basic materials are lending assistance to good purpose. One of the large cement companies, which has heavy contracts on hand for road work, has secured the consent of the purchasers to allow the company to divert these orders to other customers who desire the material for home construction. While there is a shortage in all types of construction, the most acute deficit is in homes.
"The cooperative idea is being worked out with success in some communities both in detached houses and apartments. On the whole conditions in the building industry have been somewhat improved during the past thirty days and announcement of large new building projects are coming out with greater frequency throughout the country."

TAXING UNEARNED INCREMENT.
One of the features which appear in the Ralston-Nolan tax bill now in congress, is that providing for increased taxes on lands and lots unimproved and held for speculation or for increased value following improvements on adjoining property by others. It is a part of the Henry George plan to tax unearned increment. Industry in the United States bears the heavy burden of taxation and such property in real estate as is mentioned. The Ralston-Nolan bill would place a higher tax on lands and natural resources, described as "town and city lots, coal, oil, gas, salt, peat and mineral deposits, timber rights, water-power sites and other natural parts of the earth," which have made millions with little effort by the owners.
There is no reason why a penalty should be exacted from industry to carry the government, and property held for development, carrying hundreds of millions of dollars in value when developed, be allowed to stand as untaxed potential wealth.

Many look upon the letter of the president to Senator Carter Glass in which the Virginia platform is endorsed and the senator commended as a sort of sacred oil poured by a Samuel on the head of a Saul. Glass may be the anointed one for the presidency.

Careful investigation and thorough search discloses the fact that sugar lifted its own price and no human hand or mind was concerned. This is what a scientist would call the "innate cunningness of inanimate things," or was it old Oulja working nights?

Some people spend their surplus money on fast horses, others have a fad for collecting old paintings, still others maintain yachts and many houses. But for free and untrammelled sport that beats poker and all the others we commend backing an ambitious presidential candidate.

These are the days when the uncrowned king of table dishes rules in red and regal splendor, tettering to His Majesty, Strawberry Shortcake.

The news that the "Lowden" management spent $7,500 in Wisconsin will make a lot of politicians sore to think they knew nothing about it.

PRINT PAPER FROM ALASKA.
Secretary of Agriculture Meredith projects a highly tinted rainbow of promise regarding the scarcity of news print paper. He stretches it from Alaska, and the day has passed when it was inclined to doubt or acquiesce in popular ignorance to the fact alone. Too much gold and coal have been brought from the territory to justify listening longer to that now invisible choir, which once sung jeeringly against Secretary Seward's $7,000,000 deal. Mr. Meredith's acquisition contains forests having 6,000,000 cords of timber suitable for paper making at the rate of 2,000,000 cords annually of usable pulpwood for all time, enough to manufacture one-third of the print paper needed in the United States. The obstacles of transportation, large amount of capital required and inaccessibility, have been removed.
The National Forest Service has entered upon the promotion and the Department of Agriculture stands ready to contract for stumpage upon favorable terms, graded by five-year periods. The stream flow has been investigated and found sufficient for the motive power of mills, and the electric power is officially outlined as alluring. The entire prospect toward creating a rift in the clouds. Its immediate effect upon the distressing scarcity is not held forth, but it would seem there is no occasion for being too skeptical over the ultimate outcome. Besides the supply that Alaska might contribute to the immediate consumer demand the competition might exert a wholesome influence on the market. There is the further item connected with the success thus afforded. Reforestation of the denuded regions anywhere with hemlock and spruce could be hastened while Alaska was helping out.
The whole matter is not one of business interest and cheer, but all this accumulating evidence to the wise foresight in buying Alaska appeals to the American sense of fair play to an enterprise so decided when pending, and to its persistent promoter.—Pittsburgh Dispatch (Ind.)

THE WORST EMPLOYER IN THE WORLD.
That his name is Albert Sidney Burleson would be gladly conceded by any postoffice clerk or clerk, we gather, matter impartially, we think that contestants for the post will have to speak lively to stand a chance of competing.
The complaints of the postal force are many and various. Underpay to the point of starvation would form the chief item. Indictment, the present range from $1,000 a year to $1,650, the present expense of a man is $2,000, the cost of the advanced cost of living, is still below that of the cheapest and most ignorant and incompetent day laborer. It is disgraceful and outrageous low, considering the present purchasing power of the dollar and the intelligence and accuracy and fidelity required of this general profiteering at the expense of faithful employees, many of long service. Mr. Burleson is also accused of gross inequalities and injustices as between different classes of employees. Worst and most egregiously outrageous is the scale paid to auxiliary employees, which is 50 per cent greater than that paid to permanent men. The standard scale is far below existing wage standards and that to man the service at all a far higher wage must be paid to temporary workers to meet the emergency.
Of course, the emergency wage is met by any such "sweatshop tactics" and wage-juggling at the expense of tired and trusted employees. Clerks and carriers are resigning by the score. The postal service was probably never at so inefficient a level. Meantime a "congressional" committee, month by month and year by year, "investigates" and Mr. Burleson brags of economy and "profits." All that the American people can do is to appeal to the conscience of the public and give example of conscientious profiteering and promise to see that Mr. Burleson's term comes to its appointed end on March 4 next.—New York Tribune (Rep.)

JUST FOLKS

WHAT CAN I DO FOR MY COUNTRY?
What can I do for my country—I that have little of skill, I that am one of the common run, with the humblest of places to live? I can bring up my children to love the old flag and be true. I can teach them to reverence the land of their birth, and that I will patiently do.
What can I do for my country—I that know nothing of fame, I that must stand by the work of my hand, I that can do no more for her name? Faith, I can talk of her splendor, I can rejoice through and through. That mine is a country of freedom, and that I will cheerfully do.
What can I do for my country—I that have little to give, I that must face with a burden of care, how can I serve while I live? Faith, I can honestly labor, loving the red, white and blue, and the freedom she gives me, and that I will earnestly do.
What can I do for my country? Neither mine is to wait when the dangers are great while younger men march out to die. Faith, I can cherish her teachings and be deaf to the siren song of the world. Who would poison the love that I bear her, and that to the end I will do.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

Occasionally a manager rounds up some music and some comedy at the same time and has a musical comedy—but not often.
Occasionally we like to scoop the news columns. Here's one. Potatoes are celebrated the world over and the crop is usually abundant. New potatoes of this variety are now selling for $24.50 a barrel, or 15 cents a pound. They are being sold for 10 cents a pound in the grocery stores.
Some time ago, long before the seed potatoes were planted, speculators were buying and selling the potato crop for the coming year. They bought potatoes which had not yet been planted, for $10 a barrel, paying $1 option on each barrel.
If you are a good guesser sit down and try to think how much potatoes are going to cost when these birds get through with them. They are $24.50 a barrel, or 15 cents a pound.
As some one has said, it is getting to be quite some country.
It is pretty hard to tell by the clothes and the ghostly days whether a person is a rube or a genius.
A Nevada man nearly died of strangulation the other day, but the governor's reprieve came just in time.

Who's Who Today

NATHAN STRAUSS.
Nathan Strauss, internationally famed for his philanthropies and his work, is soon to start for the Holy Land in the interest of Judaism. While en route he will attend the great Jewish conference at Cleveland, on July 4, as a delegate from the United States. He has announced that he proposes to do in Palestine, soon to be a Jewish state, what the Rockefeller Foundation is doing in other lands. He is a member of the board of directors of the Jewish National Fund, which has contributed more than $200,000 toward the establishment of a medical department in the Holy Land and has promised to increase the sum from time to time.
The career of Strauss is an extraordinary one. He is a young man in America. Born in Rhenish Bavaria, in 1848, he came to New York in 1865, and settled in Talbotton, Ga., where he obtained a meager education.
Subsequently he went to New York, took a course and joined his father in the business of importing pottery and glass.
After his marriage in 1875 he became a partner in the department store of R. H. Macy & Co., which under his management became one of the largest concerns of its kind in the world.
Always an ardent democrat, he took considerable interest in New York politics, but when he was tendered the nomination for mayor in 1894 he declined the honor.
Charity has been the background of his life. He has been president of the Jewish Charities, and has obtained permission to establish a sterilization plant on Randall's island for the benefit of foundlings. His action lowered the infant death rate of New York 50 per cent.
Later he established a great chain of pure milk distributing stations throughout the United States and in cities of several foreign countries. His aid under the unfurling of the flag to furnish coal and groceries at cost. He has never desired the people who benefited by his efforts to feel they were living on charity.
He has been one of the world's great workers in the international congress to stop the ravages of the "white plague."

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO.
May 31, 1880.—Rev. J. E. Rockwell, D. D., of Stapleton, Long Island, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church yesterday morning and the Baptist in the evening. The Young Men's Christian Association celebrated their thirtieth anniversary. The secretary's report was read, which showed an increase of twenty-one members during the past year.

THIRTY YEARS AGO.
May 31, 1890.—The Freshman class of the high school gave a Memorial Day program at the school yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hill gave the address.—Burr Robinson, Chicago, is in the city renewing old acquaintances. The stores of the city were closed from one o'clock until four this afternoon during the Memorial Day program.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.
May 31, 1900.—One of the large horses belonging to the city department was almost killed this morning when it fell down on the slippery brick pavement on Milwaukee street. (The wagon was answering a call, and as it was rounding the corner it was struck by a car.) The horse fell and was dragged for twenty-five feet. Peter Champion was driving the team.

TEN YEARS AGO.
May 31, 1910.—A large crowd attended the Memorial Day exercises in the Myers theater yesterday afternoon. Exercises were held in the morning at the cemetery also. Attorney William Dougherty gave the address of the afternoon. Miss Wilma Soverhill, of this city, won second honor at the annual contest at the Chicago Conservatory of Music.

Ghosts in Court

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington, May 31.—A man is accused of beating his wife to death, and is brought before a high tribunal. The judge and jury and audience sit and listen in respectful silence while the ghost of the dead woman testifies that she herself procured the fatal blow with which she was killed, that she had intended to kill her husband with it, and that he had great provocation to do so. The woman testifies like a story of older times. It might have happened in any of the great ages of superstition when men believed in the power of the supernatural. Back in the seventeenth century, for example, our ancestors used to throw an accused witch into a pond to determine whether she was innocent or guilty. Still earlier there were trials by combat, in which the accused fought for his life. In other cases the accused was to the supernatural. It was believed that the supernatural would intervene to save the innocent or destroy the guilty. The accused was to be put to primitive times, and you find men still more in awe of the supernatural. The flight of birds, the clouds, the sea, the wind, the mandates of unseen things. He walks in constant terror of innumerable ghosts.

Fears Still With Us.
Civilization is supposed to have freed man from these ancient fears, but it has not done so. The fear is still latent in us, waiting for a chance to express itself. For example, the incident related above happened, not in the middle ages or in a fairy tale, but in the supreme court of this country, a few days ago. The dead woman's mother testified that she had gone to several mediums, had conversed with the dead, and had so gotten the daughter's story of what happened. Still more astonishing, she testified that a seer, a United States senator, had advised her to consult mediums. When you take this in connection with the fact that the supreme court is the highest tribunal in the land, you cannot blink at the conclusion that a ghost has been admitted to a court of justice in the United States.

Lodge Advocates Ghosts.
Of course, the whole question of spiritualism, of the existence of ghosts, of the ghost conversation, of the testimony, you cannot blink at the conclusion that a ghost has been admitted to a court of justice in the United States. There are intelligent and sincere people who believe that the existence of ghosts who can communicate with the living is a fact. He proceeds by a process of elimination. He says there are certain phenomena which cannot be explained in any way except as communications from the dead. Nearly all other scientists disagree with him. Not only have thousands of persons who have been tested and accepted the belief in spirits, but they have added to that belief a faith that spirits are always wise and truthful, and that they are practically omniscient.

Are Ghosts Reliable?
But is there any reason for this belief? If a notorious liar dies and declares that he limbo went to communicative spirits, is there any reason to believe that he is telling the truth? Will death make a fool wise, or a malicious person kindly? Out in the west there is a certain place where many fortunes. One man after another has tried to get this gold, and all have failed. Finally a young man, an inventor with a most ingenious and expensive plan for getting the gold, has been killed.

ASK US

The Gazette maintains an information bureau at Washington, D. C., under the direction of Frederic J. Haskin. Questions will be answered on any subject. Those desiring information on any subject will send a letter to the Gazette Information Bureau, Washington, D. C., and enclose a stamp. The letter will be answered by the bureau.

When Was the New Thought movement started? K. M. A. The New Thought religion is the direct successor to the Spiritualist movement. It is an old doctrine, but it has been revived and is now being taught in a new way. It is a movement which has been going on since the beginning of time. It is a movement which has been going on since the beginning of time. It is a movement which has been going on since the beginning of time.

What is a Papal Bull? T. R. A. This is a papal letter sealed with a bull. Bulls since 1878 have been written in Roman letters on parchment and since 1910 have been dated by the civil calendar. Prior to this they were written on rough parchment and dated by the Roman calendar. (from the day of the incarnation.) The bull was used as a round leaden seal. The pope has a right of pardon on St. Paul, and on the other the name of the pope who uses it. Q. Is it true that St. Paul will live after being frozen in solid ice? R. L. T.

The Bureau of Fisheries says that a fish will live frozen in solid ice provided the process of thawing is not too rapid. Q. What body of water is it whose name is but a single letter? W. W. K. A. The letter W. W. K. is pronounced ew. It is the name of the Zuyder Zee, immediately north of Amsterdam, Holland.

What was the Syllabus Error? E. A. A. This was a document published by Pius IX in 1864, condemning 80 doctrines which were the principal errors of our times. The syllabus gave rise in England to a famous controversy between Gladstone and Disraeli. The name "syllabus" is also used for the decree of Pius IX, 1907, condemning modernism in 65 propositions.

This is the Jewish Feast of the Dedication, instituted by Judas Maccabaeus, his brothers, and the whole congregation of Israel, in 165 B. C., to commemorate the dedication of the new altar set up at the purification of the temple of Jerusalem after it had been defiled by Antiochus Epiphanes. The feast is held for eight days (beginning the 25th of Kislev, corresponding to December 25th), and is celebrated with a festival of lights, by the Jews everywhere. Q. When was radium discovered and what is it worth? A. Radium was discovered by Marie and Pierre Curie in 1898. A gram of radium was valued at $27,000 in 1915. It is the difference between Pansy's shawls and camel's hair shawls? V. M.

Pansy's shawls are fine worsted shawls manufactured in Paisley, Scotland, and are worth a dollar. Camel's hair shawls which were formerly made exclusively in India. The imitations are made in Paisley. So in many cases as to require an expert to tell them from the real. Q. Get the habit of reading the classified ads—it will pay you.

anthropic, benevolent and charitable organizations in La Crosse into one society for the purpose of drafting a budget and soliciting funds for all at the same time, is the aim of R. C. Eberhart, newly elected executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. The plan is similar to one adopted in Milwaukee last year.

Indeed, there seems to be absolutely no reason to believe that ghosts are any more truthful or infallible than human beings. Consult the record of the Society for Psychical Research, upon which the whole argument for spiritualism is based. You find that the evidence that ghosts know more than human beings or are more truthful, and not a little evidence that they are not. The statements are unimpeachable, like the living. Is it not well, therefore, to take the communications of your dead friends and relations with a grain of salt, that same as you take those of the living?

Troublesome Husband.
Here is another instance of a meddlesome ghost who sought to make trouble. A. Invited by an older woman who lived in the same boarding house to join her in some out-of-board excursion, the ghost immediately got into communication with the spirit of the young woman's dead husband, and proceeded to tell her a true revelation at great length. He objected to the man she went with. He told her that such and such a man was immoral, that he was a bad man, that a third had a wife living in Australia. He advised her to give up all her frivolities and stay at home nights.
The young widow was considerably troubled at first. But she had strong common sense. She reflected that even if spiritualism was a true revelation, her husband was not in accord with the facts.

Hubby Wasn't Allowed.
When the next ouija board session came off there was a struggle. Hubby tried to get in some more advice, but the young widow had her own hands. Instead of Hubby, it was the ouija board that was the center of attention. She got the floor. This departed woman informed the elderly friend that she was in danger of serious trouble. She was able to tell her to die a violent death, probably by falling down stairs, that the African "Kubler" was a fraud, which she had bought three shares of stock was a swindle, and that if she did not drink less tea she would die of cirrhosis of the liver. All of this disclosures of the ouija board readings were discontinued, and the departed husband lost his only means of communication with the world of the living, to the great relief of his widow.

In Wisconsin

Wausau.—The board of directors of the Wausau Agricultural society, which recently decided not to hold a county fair this year because of the deplorable condition of the land, has decided to hold a county fair pavilion, has received the approval of the board of directors of the county. The fair for 1920 will be held the last week in September, and will be a stock and agricultural show. There will be no horse racing.

Stevens Point.—Paul Prell of this city, graduated from Eden Seminary, St. Paul, Minn., will be ordained to the ministry of the Lutheran church on Sunday, June 13, at Stevens Point. The ceremony will be held at the Stevens Point church, conducted by Rev. Schmidt of Merrill and Rev. Grover of Wausau.

Menasha.—A pageant depicting the first visit of the late Governor Doty to Menasha in 1880, written by the producers of this city, will be produced on the fourth of July. Prominent business men and manufacturers and members of the Menasha Chamber of Commerce will appear. The pageant is being given as a benefit for the Menasha council, endorsed by the Menasha council, Chamber of Commerce and business men.

Neenah.—Open air dances will be a feature of the summer. The first dance was planned for Riverside park pavilion on Memorial day.

Neenah.—Granting of the petition of the Wisconsin Northern railroad for permission to extend its line here from Appleton by the state railroad commission, has removed the extension. It is understood that work on the new line will be commenced at once.

Manitowish.—Local high school students will appear in a pageant depicting the discovery of America, during the annual field day, June 13, at Manitowish. In the pageant, opponents in the second part, while the juniors will act in the third act.

La Crosse.—To merge all the phil-

Abe Martin
Lafe Dind has just returned from a trip and reports an "absolutely dollar worth of phubbar standing" for "want of sugar." It's kind of a holiday when father gets sick, but it puts a sting in everything when mother drops out.

Appleton.—Destruction of cemetery property and the holding of cemetery parties on the grounds of Riverside cemetery has increased indignation. Students and others together celebrate in the evening by holding picnics and marshmallow roasts. They have torn down fence posts and built fires on cemetery lots.

MEMORIAL DAY

In Perpetual Memorial To Our Hero Dead—
Who Fought and Died That We Might Live
In Peace—And To Those Heroic Souls
Who Have Shown The Highest Patriotic
Devotion This Page Is Dedicated By The Following Merchants.

IN memory of our soldiers, sailors and marines, who gave their lives that this country might be a better place to live in--and to the parents of all fallen heroes, we dedicate this space.

Wood Hardware Company

115 W. Milwaukee St.
Exclusive Dealers in
A. B. C. Washing Machines.

IN DUE REVERENCE to those soldiers who have given their lives for our country, and to all living soldiers of past wars this space is dedicated.

Kobelin's Jewelry Store

108 E. Milwaukee St.

ON THIS MOST SACRED DAY we honor the Patriots who died to keep this country free.

Grebe & Newman

Cigar Store
11. North Main St.

IN MEMORY of the soldiers living and dead we take this opportunity to pay due honor for all they endured and suffered for us.

Simpson's

Garment Store

LET us bow our heads today and say a silent prayer for the "buddie" who gave his life, that we might enjoy peace and happiness.

PREMO BROTHERS

Sportmen's Headquarters.

21 N. Main St.

THOUGH they have passed away, their work will always be remembered—yes, when all other works are forgotten the deeds of these men, will live forever in the hearts of their fellowmen.

Victoria Bros. & Butler

18 S. River St.

On This Day of Memories

let us pay tribute to those who have given their lives in the service of others.

BOYD HILL'S

SOCIETY ORCHESTRA
"Notice the Wonderful Time"

THE YEARS of drilling, training, fighting, dying, by the gallant soldiers of our land will never be forgotten, but will be a cherished memory from one generation to another.

Klassen's

27 W. Milwaukee St.

THE THINNING RANKS of the veterans of the rebellion are swelled by the sturdy sons of liberty who today are the living example of freedom's offspring.

Bake Rite Bakery

W. Milwaukee St.

MEMORIAL day has a new significance this year. The ideals for which our forefathers fought and died have been preserved by those heroes who gave their lives on the fields of France or on the high seas.

Sampica Tailors

Grand Hotel Block. Both Phones.
Clarence Sampica, Mgr.

OUT of respect for our honored heroes—we bow our heads today, to those who made the supreme sacrifice—and to those who were ready and willing to face any dangers that we might remain free.

Leath & Co.

202-204 W. Milwaukee St.

They who sacrificed themselves left a heritage of patriotism, a cherished ideal of manhood. Let us honor today with deep reverence our heroes of all wars.

D. J. Luby

Selling Nothing But Shoes

THOUGH WE DO OUR BEST we cannot realize how much we of today owe to those who have done their work and gone on before—who in their humble way have made this world better, and a happier place in which to live.

Janesville Dry Goods Co.
